HONEYWELL WELCOMES PENNSYLVANIA'S SELECT SECURITY AS FIRST ALERT PROFESSIONAL DEALER

Central Pennsylvania Dealer Serves Commercial and Residential Security Customers, Provides Medical Alert Systems

MELVILLE, N.Y., Nov. 25, 2008 – Honeywell (NYSE: HON) announced today that Lancaster, Pa.-based Select Security has joined the Honeywell First Alert Professional Dealer Program, the country's largest independent security dealer network. Select Security customizes security systems to fit both commercial and residential needs, and also offers medical alert systems.

Since 1998, Select Security has helped protect residential and commercial buildings in central Pennsylvania. The company installs intrusion, fire, carbon monoxide detection, digital video surveillance and access control systems. Additionally, Select Security operates an in-house CSAA 5-Diamond Certified, UL Listed and FM Approved central monitoring station that responds within seconds to alarm system notifications.

“Our customers’ safety and our professional commitment to experienced service is our top priority,” said Patrick Egan, Select Security president. “As a First Alert Professional Dealer, we hope to build on our experience and local reputation to increase our capabilities for all security projects.”

With more than 500 dealers nationwide, the First Alert Professional Dealer Program provides customized support in sales techniques and marketing strategies for intrusion, fire, CCTV and access control systems in commercial and residential facilities. The program is designed for dealers with expertise in intrusion and fire, video surveillance and access control.

“First Alert Professional has always maintained a commitment not only to offering top-notch security technology, but to truly educating customers about life safety,” said Joe Sausa, First Alert Professional president. “Select Security is a perfect fit for First Alert Professional for its
